

Journey of the Jaredites

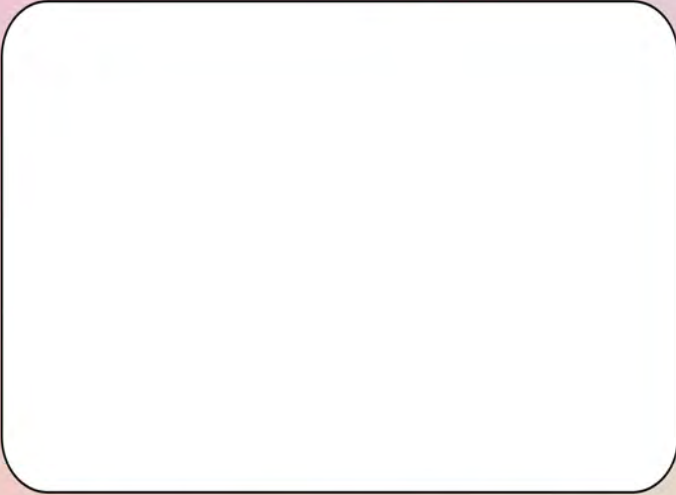

Instructions: Print out the following pages. Color the images and cut them out. Glue the images on to a blue piece of construction paper to create the scene of the Jaredites crossing the ocean to get to the promised land.

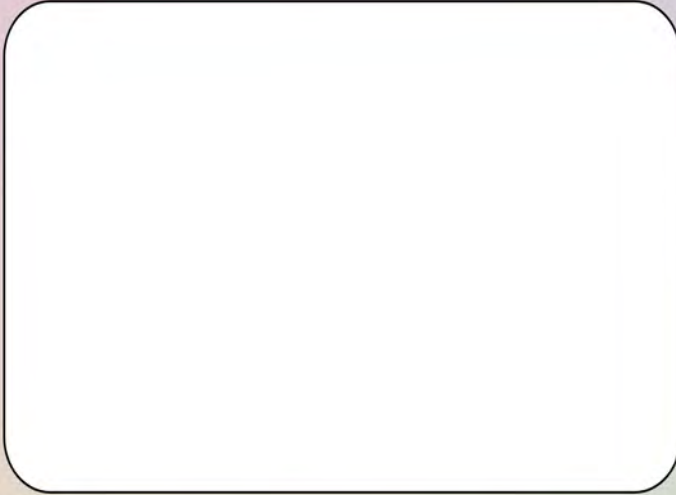

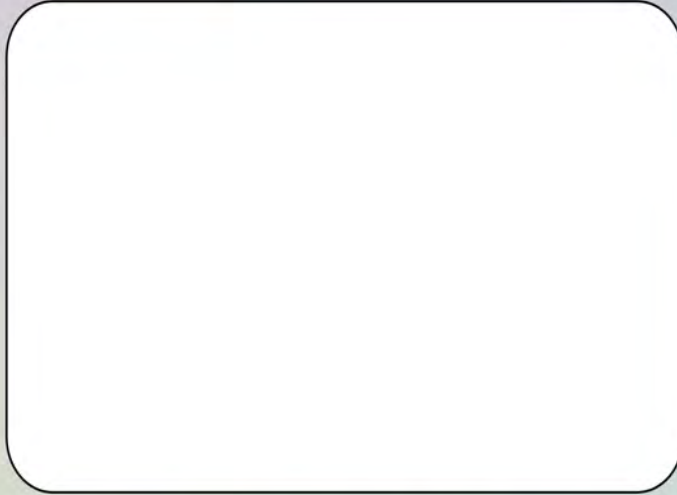

Illustrate the Story of the Jaredites

The Jaredites travel through the rough seas, being submersed completely many times and being driven by the wind.

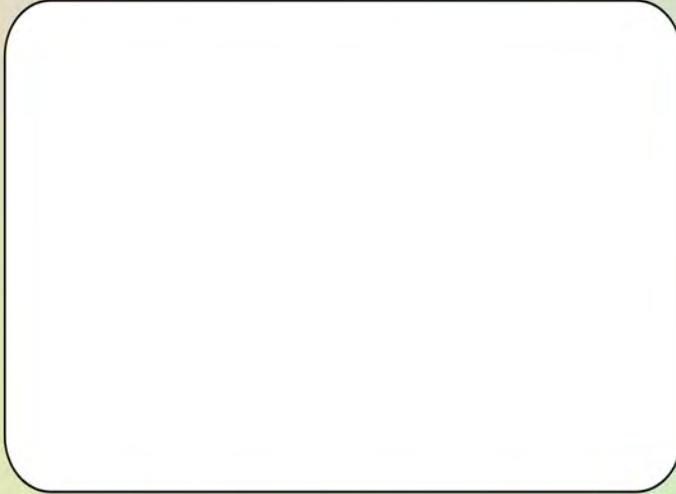

They arrive to the promised land and offer thanks to the Lord.

They begin to till the land and grow crops.

They choose a king and then cycle through wicked and righteous kings.

Prophets tell the people to repent when they are wicked.

Secret combinations are created and Moroni warns us not to allow these evil organizations into our society today.
